Master Course Syllabus

Course Discipline and Number: PSYC 101
Course Title: Psychology of Personal Growth

Year: 2023-2024
Credit Hours: 3

Attendance Policy: To maintain good grades, regular attendance in class is necessary. Absence from class is considered a serious matter and absence never excuses a student from class work. It is the responsibility of all instructors to distribute reasonable attendance policies in writing during the first week of class. Students are required to comply with the attendance policy set by each of their instructors. Students are not penalized if they are unable to attend classes or participate in exams on particular days because of religious beliefs, in accordance with Chapter 161, Section 224-a of the Education Law of the State of New York. Students who plan to be absent from classroom activity for religious reasons should discuss the absence in advance with their instructors. See college catalog for more information.

Services for Students with Disabilities: It is the College's policy to provide, on an individual basis, appropriate academic adjustments for students with disabilities, which may affect their ability to fully participate in program or course activities or to meet course requirements. Students with disabilities should contact the Coordinator of Access and Equity Services, to discuss their particular need for accommodations. All course materials are available in alternate formats upon request.

Course Description

An applied psychology course providing opportunities for students to learn about and examine their own personal growth. PSYC 101 fulfills the SUNY General Education Social Science requirement. Prerequisites: Prior completion or current enrollment in ENGL 099 and RDNG 099 if required by placement testing. 3 Cr. (3 Lec) Fall and spring semesters.

Course Context/Audience

The Psychology of Personal Growth is an unrestrictive elective. It is an excellent entry level course for students trying to "find themselves".

Basic Skills/Entry Level Expectations

Writing: W1 If required, the student must be concurrently enrolled in ENGL 099. Very limited writing, e.g., short written responses of a paragraph or less.

Math: M0 Very limited or no math skills are required.

Reading: R1 If required, the student must be concurrently enrolled in RDNG 099. The course requires very limited reading of shorter pre-college materials and limited beginning college-level materials that will also be covered extensively in class.

Course Goals

The goals for this course will include:

giving students an opportunity to take an in-depth look at themselves.

helping students answer questions such as: "Where am I?" "How did I get here?" "Where do I want to be?" "How do I get there?" "How do I maintain my gains?"

After completing the course, students will:

have a clearer knowledge of their strengths, weaknesses, successes, values, life roles.

become more proactive rather than reactive; more solution-centered vs. problem-centered.

take more responsibility for their lives.

have a higher level of self-esteem or psychological hardiness.

know several effective strategies for dealing with stress.

learn how to overcome self-defeating beliefs.

have a clearer sense of their mission/vision/purpose.

learn how to set and achieve goals.

know both how to achieve balance in their lives, and also, keep focused on what truly matters.

have a more positive outlook and expectation about life.

reflect and demonstrate an overview of Positive Psychology, including but not limited to the topics of love, empathy, self-control, wisdom, commitment, happiness, self-respect, hope, and friendship.
